WEEKLY Horoscopes
for October 9 - 15

ARIES – Mar 21/Apr 20
This week is all about fresh starts, Aries. The stars are aligning to give you the green light on a new project or personal goal. Don't hesitate to jump on the first step.

TAURUS – Apr 21/May 21
Focus on building a solid foundation this week, Taurus. Whether it's in your career or personal life, your hard work and persistence will pay off in a big way.

GEMINI – May 22/Jun 21
Your social calendar is buzzing, Gemini. This week you could be a magnet for interesting conversations and new ideas. Don't be afraid to network and share your thoughts.

CANCER – Jun 22/Jul 22
Expect a breakthrough in your personal life, Cancer. You'll gain a new sense of clarity and emotional understanding, allowing you to move forward with confidence.

LEO – Jul 23/Aug 23
Your leadership skills are on full display, Leo. This week you'll be called upon to inspire and guide others. Don't be shy about stepping into the spotlight at work or in a group setting.

VIRGO – Aug 24/Sept 22
This is a week for practical improvements, Virgo. Take a look at your daily routines and find small ways that you can be more efficient. Organize your space or adopt a new health habit.

LIBRA – Sept 23/Oct 23
Harmony in your relationships is a prominent theme this week, Libra. Your diplomatic nature will help you resolve any lingering conflicts and form deeper connections.

SCORPIO – Oct 24/Nov 22
A powerful transformation might be underway, Scorpio. You might feel an urge to dig deeper and uncover hidden truths, both in yourself and in your life. Embrace the process of growth.

SAGITTARIUS – Nov 23/Dec 21
Expand your horizons this week, Sagittarius. You'll feel a strong pull to learn something new, whether it is a skill or a different language. Your optimistic outlook is contagious.

CAPRICORN – Dec 22/Jan 20

Dave Baughman "The Outdoor Insider"

I visited with several people at the boat launch on Potholes Reservoir, and they all said how much they love the fall weather. I have to agree. Fall is a wonderful time to be outdoors and, on the water, here in Central Washington. I try to do this as often as I can, knowing that winter comes early here in Leavenworth and other areas at higher elevations.

Want to catch some big crappie, perch and bluegill? Then you should plan a trip to Potholes Reservoir. I had heard a couple of reports of very good fishing for these spiny rays, so Tom Verschuren and I traveled to Potholes on Thursday to give it a try. This was my first trip to Potholes this year, and the first thing I noticed was how low the water was, and that I had to be careful when I left the launch, in the Bob Feil Boats and Motors Smoker Craft at the State Park to find deep water. I had to keep the Mercury 250 tilted high to avoid the silt bottom. When we were heading home, we passed by the Simpson Pit public access, and I saw they were doing more work at this site. I know people like to use this refurbished launch site, but it still puts you in shallow water at this time of year. The launch at Blythe also puts you in shallow water. I put my boat in here years ago here and had difficulty putting it back on the trailer due to the low water. The State Park is my first choice on Potholes right now. Once I was in deep enough water to look for fish, I deployed the Minn Kota. We got our rods set up and selected a couple of likely looking Flicker Shads. It didn't take long to see a rod bent over with what turned out to be a crappie that was over 11 inches long. The action wasn't exactly fast and furious, although I did see some nice groups of fish on the Garmin. We got crappie to 12 inches, and a foot long perch. Bluegill will also hit these Flicker Shads. You can expect to hook smallmouth bass and big rainbow trolling as well. This week's photo is of a crappie that is close to a foot long that we landed on Potholes.

I first fished the Icicle River for coho in the fall of 2021, on the last day of September. It was a scouting mission really. I didn't really expect to catch anything, being my first time and all. I noticed that I was the only person in the area below the hatchery. When I stepped off the bank just below the handicapped platform and made my first cast, I was shocked when the rod was almost jerked out of my hand. I managed to pull the fish into shallow water, slide my fingers under the gills and boost it up on the shore. Wow, now I knew why so many anglers fish for these coho. What a thrill. I got the fish up to my truck and laid it out on a black plastic bag and cut into the fish to see if was worth putting on the grill. I was amazed at the deep red flesh, even though there was a very distinct kype formed on its lower jaw. It doesn't look like I will be able to duplicate this experience this season. Coho numbers are too low, and the water is very low and warm. Maybe next year. Speaking of disappointing fisheries, I got the final results of the number of sockeye taken at Lake Wenatchee this summer. According to the WDFW 6,879 sockeye were logged by the fish checkers in 2025, compared to about 18,000 in the 2024 season.

It looks like there will be a good fall fishing season for fans of fishing the Hanford Reach. A recent survey of angler effort by the Department of Fish and Wildlife shows that success has improved for anglers chasing fall Chinook. When I checked the fall Chinook counts over McNary Dam it indicates that there are fish moving up the Columbia now. There are enough fish in the Reach in the vicinity of the Vernita Bridge to make a trip worthwhile. I know a lot of anglers will be working the King Hole, near the Vernita Access Site, with flashers and Super Baits, while others will be back trolling plugs wrapped with sardines or eggs. Although messy, back trolling eggs this time of the season in this stretch of the river can be deadly. I have had very good success back trolling in the area across from Reactor B in the past and one of my favorite runs is right below Priest Rapids Dam. If you want to wrestle with some big fall Chinook, the Hanford Reach would be the place. I have looked at some images of Chinook being caught right now down there and they look great.

As we have moved into the month of October, I wanted to check on the steelhead counts over Priest Rapids Dam. Last year, the Methow River opened to fishing for hatchery steelhead on October 9th. Also, there was a point at which the upper Columbia main stem opened to fishing for steelhead, a little later on, from above Rocky Reach Dam to Wells and even further upstream, but not in the area of Bridgeport. As I recall, anglers had very good success the first week of the season on the Methow and then it dropped off sharply. Persistent anglers caught fish above the bridge in the mouth of the Methow and in a few spots downstream from Pateros. Looking at the numbers this year, it appears that the fish are behind schedule, but I am not giving up hope that we will be able to fish for steelhead in these same areas this season. I particularly wish that the area above the mouth of the Okanogan River would open so we could fish at Bridgeport. This is where my wife and I spent many days in years past fishing with bobbers and jigs. She absolutely loved it.

SHANE VAN GISBERGEN WINS AT ROVAL; LOGANO ADVANCES IN PLAYOFFS | By Reid Spencer-NASCAR Wire Service

CONCORD, N.C. (October 5, 2025) — As expected, road course maven Shane van Gisbergen won Sunday's Bank of America Roval 400, but that was only a small part of the story at the Charlotte Motor Speedway Road Course.

Long after van Gisbergen took the checkered flag to record his fifth straight road course victory of the NASCAR Cup Series season, Ross Chastain made a banzai run in the frontstretch chicane and wiped out Denny Hamlin's Toyota in a desperate attempt to secure the final spot in the Playoffs' Round of 8.

Spinning after the contact with Hamlin's car, Chastain threw his car into reverse and sped backwards across the finish line, but the effort proved futile. The final Round of 8 spot instead went to defending series champion Joey Logano, who finished 20th and advanced by four points over the Trackhouse Racing driver.

A pair of mistakes on pit road cost Chastain dearly. At the first stage break, he ran wide into the 90-degree corner at the exit from pit road, missed the turn and came to a stop, losing 15 positions to restart 30th.

After recovering from that error and putting himself in position to advance, Chastain sped on pit road on Lap 87 of 109, ran long to the finish and lost too many spots on the final two laps to hold off Logano.

"(Trackhouse owner) Justin (Marks) hired me to carry this 1 car and to drive it and to be a leader, and I just completely unraveled our day," a crestfallen Chastain said. "We definitely had the speed on the last lap, yeah, and missed turn 7, and I slid the rear tires and let the 11 (Hamlin) by.

"Yeah, not acceptable. I just completely … you know, just completely unacceptable."

Logano was delighted to escape the race at the 2.28-mile circuit with the opportunity for a fourth NASCAR Cup Series title intact.

"Such a close finish there," he said. "Yeah, knew it was within a point there (before the last-corner collision). I knew we were going to be tied there at the end, and Ross was going to do whatever he had to do to make it happen. Geesh, just wasn't quite fast enough today with our car.

"It's the drama of the playoffs. If you want drama, the playoffs bring it every time."

Eliminated along with Chastain were pole winner Tyler Reddick (10th), Bubba Wallace (15th) and Austin Cindric, who needed a win to advance and instead finished last (37th) after a litany of issues throughout the race.

Ryan Blaney and Chase Elliott already had advanced to the Round of 8 with respective Round of 12 victories at New Hampshire Motor Speedway and Kansas Speedway. Race runner-up Kyle Larson, third-place Christopher Bell, William Byron, Chase Briscoe, Hamlin and Logano joined them after Sunday's elimination race.

Both Larson and Bell made van Gisbergen's task harder than usual. The New Zealander, however, was so good at managing his fragile tires that he finished the final 59-lap stage on two pit stops compared with three for his closest pursuers.

The result was a whopping 15.160-second margin of victory over Larson for the driver of the No. 88 Trackhouse Racing Chevrolet. The victory was his fifth of the season and sixth overall, and his five straight road course wins are one short of Jeff Gordon's series record, set from 1997 through 2000.

Both Bell and Larson were aggressive in their attempts to unseat NASCAR's current road course king. On Lap 63, Larson muscled his way past van Gisbergen, with Bell following into second.

After a cycle of green-flag pit stops, the Kiwi passed Bell for second. Eight laps later, he dived to the inside of Larson's No. 5 Chevrolet in the Turn 7 hairpin and regained the lead.

After another round of pit stops, SVG and Larson swapped the lead with significant contact between their cars before van Gisbergen passed Larson through the backstretch chicane on Lap 98 and held it the rest of the way.

"Yeah, just started getting hot and sliding around, but what an awesome race," van Gisbergen said. "Kyle and Christopher driving really good and got a little rough, but, man, the battle was awesome."

Non-Playoff drivers Chris Buescher, Michael McDowell, Ryan Preece and Daniel Suarez finished fourth through seventh, respectively. Elliott was eighth, followed by AJ Allmendinger and Reddick.

The Round of 8 begins next Sunday with the South Point 400 at Las Vegas Motor Speedway (5:30 p.m. ET on USA, PRN and SiriusXM NASCAR Radio).

ETHAN EBERT IS NEWEST FALL CLASSIC WINNER

The 2025 Fall Classic winner at Tri City Raceway was Ethan Ebert from Tucson, Arizona driving a Jeff Jefferson race car that won the $10,000 first place money. Tri City Raceway photos by Elevate Racing Media

West Richland, Wash. (Oct. 5, 2025) — The Fall Classic has yet a new winner to add to its list following the 38th running of the race.

Ethan Ebert, driving a car owned by Jeff Jefferson claimed victory by just under 1.2 seconds Sunday afternoon on the half-mile Tri City Raceway tri-oval to claim the $10,000 first place money.

Ebert from Tucson, Ariz. led the race's final six laps to top Haeden Plybon from Spokane in the season-ending Northwest Super Late Model Racing Association race.

"We were using our doors out there," Ebert said in a NWSLM news release. "I think it just came down to who had more tire out there and we did."

There was some simple strategy that Ebert employed to earn the victory.

"It was just save, save, save", Ebert said. "This track is super abrasive, and we only get right side tires on the pit stop, so we just tried to save our lefts, our left rear. That was going to be our drive tire, and we needed that one."

Plybon led at five different times in the race including 143 through 194. According to reports, Plybon also did a remarkable job at one point saving things from a potential spin.

With his 10th place finish, Ryan Phipps from Burley, Idaho was crowned the 2025 champion.

April's Apple Cup winner at Tri City, Zach Riehl, was third with Thomas Stafford and Kasey Kleyn rounding out the top five.

Besides Kleyn, the 2024 camp, former Fall Classic race winners and their finishes included: Donnie Wenat (2022) DNQ and Naima Lang (2020, 2011 & 2012) 15th.

Tucson's Ethan Ebert and Haeden Plybon from Spokane wage an exciting side-by-side battle in the 38th Fall Classic. Ebert led the final six in the 27-car field. Tri City Raceway photos by Elevate Racing Media

WANT TO BE FEATURED IN OUR 'CHAMPION'S PROFILES?'

We're still asking 2025 racetrack champions to contact us to be featured in the NW Motorsports Report "Champion's Profiles" found each week in The Exchange classified paper.

Here's what we need:

1. Photo of car
2. Photo of driver (mug)
3. Point standings from your class
4. Brief (or not so brief) bio of you that covers your racing career and what you do when you are not racing. Family?
5. Any notable wins or awards?
6. Sponsors list; any crew you want to spotlight?
